

9th ENAS news letter

Dear ENAS members,

You are receiving ENAS' 9th news letter, for the very first time in ENAS corporate design. I hope with the new layout it will be more interesting for you to read. As already mentioned in the past, I would be very happy, if you would send your comments, your news, your project ideas and your member activities, to make the news letter more attractive!

ENAS conference Tallinn 2006

In January the EC selected "The Changing Role of Sport in Higher Education" as main topic for next ENAS conference in Tallinn from 8.-12.11. 2006. Secretary General, President, Pika Radmilovic from Maribor/Slovenia as last conference organiser and Jan Bonnarens from Ghent/Belgium, as next conference organiser, Raivo Russmann and his team from Tallinn College of Engineering prepared end of March first steps for the conference. Subtopics will be sport facility management, health care, social responsibility and ECTS. The rector of University Tartu/Estonia is invited to be the key note speaker. The conference brochures were distributed. An online copy is available at our webpage. Our colleagues from Tallinn already arranged an attractive programme for you.

ENAS members will be contacted for a presentation and conference involvement.

ENAS goals 2006/2007

The EC decided that the first goal for the season 2006/2007 is getting more active members. In order to achieve that, the EC decided to involve all ENAS members working at ENAS vision process. Therefore the EC sees the need of more active members being involved in the main issues defined by ENAS. More goals in the 10th newsletter.

Sports for Development and Peace

International Swiss Snowsports Camp 2006

University Sports of Basel organised this camp, a followup idea of the U.N. „International Year of Sports in 2005“, due to its 75th anniversary.

University Sports Directors and staff members met in Engelberg, Switzerland, in March 2006 and enjoyed skiing, snowboarding and other snowsports activities in the Swiss Alps.

Workshops

According to the ideas of the United Nations that sport can be a very good means to improve development and peace all over the world, the group worked on projects. Combining a snowsports-week with workshops and spending a week together performing sports, showed up to be a perfect way to create a very good atmosphere for discussions and for understanding each other.

Four of the projects will be presented at the next ENAS Congress in Tallinn, Estland. At least one project should be started by University Sports Organisations all over Europe in 2007.

Sport Programme

Beside ski, snowboard and telemark there was an offer to experience new tools like airboard, snow-bike and snowblade. The ENAS-CUP gave everybody the possibility to compete.

A snowshoe-walk to explore the surroundings, a night-walk with torches and of course „party time“ were a part of the programme as well.

The International Camp will be organised by Basel University Sports again from 10th to 17th March in 2007.

Please contact Marco Obrist.

ENAS Corporate Design

The ENAS corporate design is still in progress. This newsletter is already based on our Vice-Presidents suggestion. It was produced at Aachen University of Technology. A new internet design will be presented in July.

Sponsorship

Technogym Partnership

Asbjorn Amundsen and President discussed at FIBO fair in Essen/Germany with our official sponsor its participation at next ENAS conference in Tallinn. Technogym underlined that they intend to continue the partnership with ENAS. In November details about next contract will be discussed.

Technogym sales

Who bought Technogym equipment? In order to receive the agreed sponsorship from Technogym we need a copy of your invoice about the equipment you bought. Please send it to Asbjorn Amundsen as soon as possible.

New Technogym representative for ENAS

Maurizio Placuzzi is our new Technogym partner. Soon he will contact you and send you Technogym information.

Entreprise

Asbjorn Amundsen and President plan to meet a representative of the company "Entreprise", which is producing climbing facilities in order to start a co-operation.

ENAS EUA contact

President contacted EUA in order that ENAS gets a chance to present its qualities at the 4th EUA Convention of European Higher Education Institutions in March 2007 in Lisbon. The EUA wants to discuss "Strong Universities for Europe in a Worldwide Perspective" or "The Scientific and Social Responsibility of European Universities in a Global Environment".

ENAS membership fee 2006

Treasurer Jos Clijsters, distributed the invoices for your membership fee 2006. Please, pay very soon, if you haven't done yet.

The EUL

ENAS member celebrates 50th anniversary

The EUL - university stadium of Lisbon, ENAS member since 2000, celebrated its fifty years anniversary on May 27th, 2006. From the beginning, this institution has been constantly attempting to promote physical activity and encourage sport among universities. EUL is nowadays the leading public space for sport within the centre of Lisbon and has an average of 2500 practisers per day.

The affiliation of EUL with ENAS for the last six years has been extremely valuable as allowed it to share fulfilling experiences with other countries' similar institutions. EUL is currently preparing itself to become an autonomous entity with the participation of Lisbon's universities and eventually the local Borough.

EUL tries to benefit from other institutions such as SIO – the foundation of student life in Oslo with the help of ENAS member Oslo.

to declare 2008 "European Year of Intercultural Dialogue". The EC in order to define an ENAS participation in this program.

EU obesity programme

In December 2005 ENAS member Duarte Lopez from University of Lisbon suggested to take action in a European programme against obesity and to apply for subsidies. The EC decided in January to take part in this programme. Several persons worked on a paper which was sent to European Union in February.

European Credit Transfer System (ECTS)

If you already established ECTS programmes or if you have any questions concerning these programmes contact our EC member Pika Radmilovic. Pika wants to collect all existing programmes and give you an overview at ENAS webpage.
